

DAVID BEAUCHAMP

Director

Since 2009 David has directed over fifty episodes of the Channel 4-Lime Pictures drama 'Hollyoaks'. His passion for his work and a strong vision has earned him the respect of the producers and the admiration of cast and crew alike. His route into directing came through being a DoP and editor on short films, and a temporary staff position at Lime led to him being offered the director's chair on 'Hollyoaks'.

Recent references:

"I employed Dave Beauchamp as a Director on Hollyoaks. Dave has a fantastic eye, always brings something unexpected to the table and is a delight to work with. He is a creative director who understands the importance of character and story and he brings a beauty to his episodes... commands a great deal of respect from everyone. He deals with tough schedules and frequent changes calmly... I was always delighted with his work."

Lucy Martin - Producer: Waterloo Road

"David is great to work with, commands respect on set and always gives off a relaxed sense of zen... I need to talk to my director and his door is always open."

Emmett J. Scanlan – 'Brenden Brady': Hollyoaks

"Hollyoaks is an incredibly demanding show for both artists and crew. What makes it a joy to work on are the new film makers I get to work with like Dave Beauchamp. Even under intense pressure... he always works calmly and quietly ensuring you have everything you need to achieve the best from the scene. His enthusiasm and excitement for the work are infectious... some of the best scenes I did were with Dave and I can't wait to work with him again."
