RICHARD FOX and LAUREN YASON

Composers

Composers, multi-instrumentalists, vocalists, songwriters and arrangers, Richard and Lauren are based at their own studio in North London.

They cover a multitude of musical styles from opera through to nu-metal, with a view to incorporating new and creative instrumentation from all areas of music.

Through working with the latest versions of ProTools and Logic Pro, they are able to produce a complete score and soundtrack, from start to finish, including up to 5.1 surround sound.

Presently working on the film "Eichmann", directed by Robert Young and starring Stephen Fry, they are also working on the Curtis Radclyffe picture "The Sick House" due for release in 2007.
