

LORRAINE HILL

Hair and Make-up Designer

Lorraine is a fully-qualified hairdresser and trained at Antenna Salon in London's Kensington. Starting her career in photographic work for the salon, Lorraine got into television through the BBC's 'Clothes Show Live' and from there jumped into drama and then into feature films. Now after fifteen years' work, there's very little she hasn't excelled at, from period, sci-fi and Bollywood, to comedy and action films, childrens' series and contemporary drama. And good experience of keeping within budgets and working well with foreign crews has made her popular with directors and producers alike.
