SARAH TAPSCOTT

Costume Designer

Sarah Tapscott's career in costume started in the theatre. She studied costume at the National Youth Theatre, working on plays performed at The Bloomsbury Theatre and The Place, but it was while studying at Glasgow School of Art that she discovered a greater passion for film. She's since worked on over twenty productions, specialising in contemporary styling. She enjoys working closely with directors and other HODs and excels at creating authentic characters through her styling. She's also a strong designer, is respected by producers for getting her department in on budget, and gets on well with her crew. Sarah is available for work in the UK and can be based in both London and Leeds.
